

The double bordered entities (Shots and Shot Taken) are weak sets. This means that they cannot be identified uniquely. And that is fine. There can be multiple shots that are the EXACT same in values taken in the same game by the same player. That is completely possible.